WELCOME TO THE LEHIGH COUNTY LOG CABIN TRAIL

The Lehigh County Log Cabin Trail enables students and educators, history buffs, historians, tourists, photographers, and others to visit and sometimes photograph some of our remaining log cabins and houses.

Many are located in parks or on other public property. For purposes of the Lehigh County Log Cabin Trail, "log cabin" is used generally to include all log buildings including log houses and other structures.

We especially encourage educators in Lehigh County and adjacent areas to make full use of the trail on field trips and in their classrooms.

It is an important and fascinating new resource which teachers can use to expose students at all educational levels to log buildings and learn about the roles they played (and still play in some cases) in our history.

Some parts of the Lehigh County Log Cabin Trail, in the Central Section, are routed along part of our county's delightful covered bridge tour which adds further historic charm and educational value as one explores the log cabin trail.

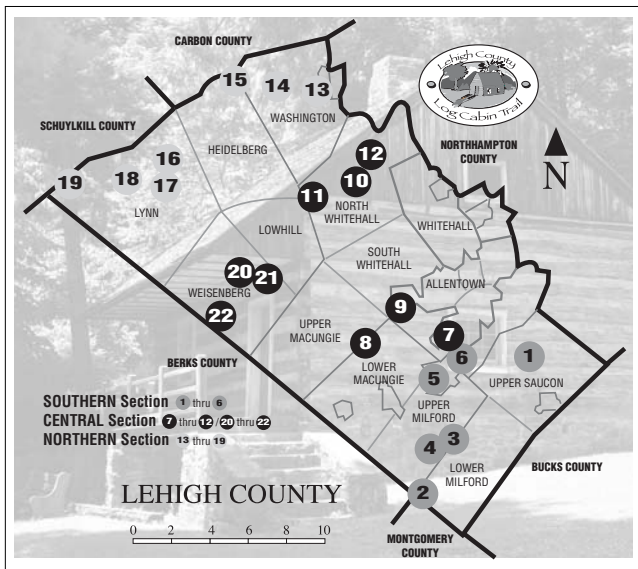

The Lehigh County Log Cabin Trail includes 22 eighteenth and nineteenth century log buildings and is the newest historic tourism and education resource available to the public, educators, and visitors to Lehigh County, PA. The trail is unique in Pennsylvania, and apparently the entire nation.

The log buildings selected for inclusion on the Lehigh County Log Cabin Trail are scattered widely throughout the county. Sometimes houses that are known to travel from one building to another. Therefore, for the convenience of visitors driving to various buildings, we divided the trail into three sections. Each contains its own driving route or loop. In a few cases, a driving route (unavoidably) passes a log building not included on the log cabin trail. Please pass by these privately owned buildings; do not disturb their owners.

The trail begins with the Southern Section, then moves north to the Central Section, continues into the Northern Section and the Blue Mountain (Kittatinny Ridge) forming the northern border of Lehigh County, then go to the three buildings in the northwestern part of the trail called Return to Center Section where the trail ends. (See reverse side for driving directions for the Lehigh County Log Cabin Trail.)

Driving Directions for the Lehigh County Log Cabin Trail

Southern Section

STARTING POINT. The log cabin trail begins at Exit 60 of I-78 just south of Allentown and includes roughly the northern one-third of the trail. It includes Lower Milford, Upper Saucon, and Upper Milford Townships, along with villages and towns including Lincolnton and Emmaus. The Southern Section has six log buildings included on the trail. They are the Carlin Log House in Lincolnton, the Miller Log House, Peter Rothenberger Log House, and Schubert-Graber Log Cabin all in Powder Valley, the Pennsylvania Avenue Log House in Emmaus, and charming Shelter House on South Mountain in Emmaus.

- 1. Carlin Log House (ca 1850'). This is a drive-by site. No photography. Access: 3687 Lanark Road, Coopersburg, PA. From Exit 60 of I-78 at the junction with US Route 309, just south of Allentown, drive 0.6 mile south to Center Valley Parkway. Turn right and continue for 0.2 mile to Lanark Road. Turn right and continue for 0.3 mile to the Carlin Log House on your right at the junction with Abbott St. and Lanark Road. (This building is located in Lanark despite its Coopersburg postal mailing address).
- 2. Miller Log House (ca 18th century). This is a drive-by site. No photography. Access: 7028 Sell Road, Zionsville, PA. From the previous building, turn right onto Lanark Road and continue west a short distance to the junction of Lanark Road and Limeport Pike. Turn left onto Limeport Pike and continue for 8.4 miles to the village of Hoesessack. Turn right onto Kings Highway and continue for 0.1 mile to Palm Road. Turn left onto Palm Road and continue 1.1 miles to Powder Valley Road. Turn right and continue on Powder Valley Road for 0.9 mile to Sell Road. Turn right onto Sell Road and look for the Miller Log House high on the hillside on the left.
- 3. Peter Rothenberger Log House (ca 1830-1850'). This is a drive-by site. No photography. Access: 6521 Crown Lane, Zionsville, PA. From the previous building continue ahead for 0.3 mile on Sell Road to its junction with Powder Valley Road. Turn left onto Powder Valley Road and continue for 0.2 mile to Woodlawn Drive. Turn right onto Woodlawn Drive and then almost immediately left onto Corning Road. Turn left onto Corning Road and continue for about 0.5 mile to Crown Lane. Turn right onto Crown Lane. Turn right for about 0.1 mile to the Peter Rothenberger Log House set back among lush landscaping on the right.
- 4. Schubert-Graber Log Cabin (ca 1740s-1750s). This is a drive-by site. No photography. Access: From the previous building return to, and then turn left onto Powder Valley Road. Continue ahead for 0.6 mile to the Schubert-Graber Log Cabin (currently needing major restoration work) on the right. Please do not park on private property near the log cabin.
- 5. Pennsylvania Avenue Log House (1798'). This is a drive-by site. No photography. Access: 1281 Pennsylvania Avenue, Emmaus, PA. From the previous building continue ahead on Powder Valley Road to the junction with Routes 29/100. Turn right and continue 4.0 miles into Emmaus to 10th St. Turn right and continue 0.1 mile to Pennsylvania Ave. Turn right and proceed 0.3 mile. The Pennsylvania Avenue Log House on your right (only the logs on the front first floor are exposed).
- 6. Shelter House (1734). You may walk around the property and take photographs of the exterior of the building, but please respect the privacy of the caretaker and his family who live in the structure. Access: 601 South Fourth Street, Emmaus, PA. From the previous building return to Pennsylvania Ave. (which eventually becomes Broad St.) and continue ahead 1.0 mile to 4th St. Turn right and continue to T at Fairview St. Turn left at the T, continue to the end, then turn right beside a recreation field to the Shelter House sign ahead of you. Turn left at the sign into the narrow driveway and continue to the small parking area.
